Mokena Board

David McMillan Succeeds Ray Westlund

At a meeting of the Mokena village board last week, Mayor James Marti announced the appointment of David McMillan to serve as trustee, replacing Raymond Westlund, who had served on the board for five years and resigned recently because of illness.

The new trustee will serve until 1961 when the next village election will be held. He will be installed in office at the Jan. 19 meeting.

Mrs. Joseph Doyle of First st., reported to the board that sewers were clogged at her location and were backing up. She was asked to return to the next board meeting when the engineer will be present

Drainage At 2nd And Pine Still Problem

At its January meeting, the New Lenox village board considered at some length the problem of drainage from the area at Second and Pine streets. Flooding in this area has been aggravated again by recent rain and soggy weather. A delegation of property owners from the area was present to discuss the problem and urge an early solution.

It was decided to ask the Village Planning Commission, in its meeting this week, to study and recommend the best method of subdividing the area west of Pine st. and between Second st. and Haven ave. so that a storm sewer route could be chosen that would do minimum damage to the ultimate development. Further action will be taken on this basis.

Eugene McGovney, chairman of the police board, announced that the village squad car is now equipped with an additional two-way radio permitting communication with the home of Police Chief George Kennedy, with police cars of neighboring villages, and with civil defense radios.

No Charges Against Trio

Owen Bosard, 21, of Mokena, who was involved in an altercation in Joliet the night of Jan. 3, paid court costs of $15 when arraigned in Joliet police court last Saturday day but the fine was suspended. He is still being held in the Will county jail, however, for alleged violation of a probation order from the county court. A hearing is scheduled for tomorrow.

Bosard was riding in a car driven by Robert Wondrasek, 17, of Frankfort, and became involved in an exchange of words with occupants of a car driven by Dennis McGann, 16, son of a Joliet policeman. At Jackson and Collins street, in Joliet, Bosard is said to have broken a window in the McGann car, an exterior rear view mirror and struck one of its occupants.

Bosard and Wondrasek were arrested but the charge against Wondrasek was dropped Saturday when Bosard told the court he was the only one to get out of the car.

In a story carried last week Joliet police were quoted as saying that warrants had also been issued for Kenneth Hossack, 17, and David Navak, 19, both of New Lenox. Later they decided not to issue warrants against them and New Lenox Police Chief George Kennedy was asked to notify them to appear in court Saturday in the role of witnesses, which they did. No charges were placed against them.

It was announced that vehicle licenses must be displayed on cars. The board will study the request of Chester Ebert who is digging a well on the location of his phosphate plant which is outside the village limits, whether or not he may extend water from it to his new home being built nearby within the village limits.

Fourteen new street lights will be installed in the village. Four lights will be removed from Wolf rd., between McGovney and La Porte and five new ones installed on Wolf rd., north of LaPorte. Other locations where lights will be installed are two on Front st.,

Call Meeting At Orland Park To Discuss Sewers

A public meeting at which the proposed sewer and improved water system for Orland Park will be discussed in detail has been called by the village board for next Monday night, Jan. 18.

The meeting will be held in the gymnasium of the Orland Park grade school on 143rd st. It is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock and everyone in the village is invited to attend.

The mayor and members of the village board will be on hand to answer questions. Also there for the same purpose will be Village Attorney Raymond Pieper; Village Engineer Mark Lovejoy, and Morton Land, of Benjamin and Lang, the financial house that is prepared to handle the bond issue necessary to meet the cost of the projects.

At a meeting Monday night of the Orland Hills Home Owners Association which was addressed by Mr. Lang, that body endorsed the sewer and water improvements. The Orland Hills section is especially interested in the program because it includes a new well and improvements to the water mains. Last summer this area, as well as other sections in the village, complained of a water shortage. The increase in population was too much for the present system and an additional source of water is required.

The question of whether Orland Park is to have a sewer system will be decided on Saturday, Jan. 23, when two bond issues will be submitted to the voters for approval.

One of the issues will be $100,000 in general obligation bonds. Such bonds are retired thru taxes.

The other issue will be $455,000 in water and sewer revenue bonds and will be retired from service charges paid by consumers.

Mr. Lang explained that the minimum users will pay approximately $4 a month for water and sewer service.

The present rate for water is $5 per quarter for a minimum of 8,000 gallons, or $20 a year. Under the proposed new rates the minimum would be $48 a year, for water and sewer.

Mr. Lang stated that the owner of a house assessed at $7,000 -- and he believes this would fit more than the average -- would pay $21 more in taxes the first year toward retirement of the obligation bonds. The second year, he said, the amount would drop to $17.50.

By adding the $21 to the $48 for sewer and water service, Mr. Lang added, the total minimum cost for the improvements would be $69 a year. By deducting the $20 minimum now paid for water alone, one would pay $49 a year, Lang stated.

There are 625 water users in the village now.

Persons who attend the meeting Monday night are invited to ask questions concerning the program.

Orland Park, like other communities in the area, is growing fast and has long ago outgrown the system of septic tanks for disposal of sanitary wastes, it was pointed out. The Chicago sanitary district is building a sewerage treatment works at Orland Park when the new sewer system is completed it can be connected immediately.

Police Warn Keys in Cars Invites Theft

Leaving keys in the ignition of a car while parked is against the law and can result in very serious consequences. Besides tempting car thieves and suffering the loss of the automobile, owners are responsible for any damage incurred by the driver should the car be stolen.

In a recent auto theft case, where two Orland Park boys were apprehended for stealing seven automobiles, three in the Orland area, the juveniles admitted to Frank Guetter, police commissioner, and Eugene Yunker, police chief, who aided the state police in the theft, they stole only cars where keys had been left in the ignition.

The car owners were issued tickets by the state police for leaving vehicles unattended.

The Orland police officers warn residents to keep car doors locked and not leave keys in the ignition when they are unattended.

Another charge which could be made against owners who leave cars unattended and are stolen, is contributing to delinquency if stolen by a juvenile.

New Lenox Make Plans For 9th Annual Skating Meet

The weatherman permitting the New Lenox Lions club will hold its ninth annual ice skating meet on Hickory creek Sunday afternoon, Jan. 17.

If the January thaw that was in high gear Tuesday of this week takes out the ice the meet will be held at a later date. Those in charge say if it is impossible to hold the events this weekend they will be run off on the following Sunday, Jan. 24.

It was pointed out by the committee in charge, which is headed by John Houck, that arctic temperatures could arrive just as suddenly as the springlike readings that were current Tuesday and several nights of hard freezing weather could provide a good skating surface.

The New Lenox ice meet is staged on Hickory creek, at the east end of Elm street.

There will be five classes in the meet.

Class A has been designated for girls and boys 19 years and older. Class B will be for skaters between the ages of 14 and 18. Class C is for youngsters 10 to 13 years of age.

Class D is for children in the age bracket of 7 to 9.

Class E is for the small fry, from six years old down.

The age brackets given in Classes B, C and D are all inclusive. Prizes will be awarded to winners in the different divisions.

The annual skating meet at New Lenox has been a successful affair in the past, altho it has not always been possible to hold it on the original dates.

Members of the Lions club will mark off the finish lines for the various events and see to it that the ice surface is smooth.

Youngsters at New Lenox and other parts of the area have been making use of the ice on Hickory creek for skating until this week when rising temperatures has taken a heavy toll of the surface.

The resignation of the Rev. William J. Riemann was presented to the congregation of St. John's United Church of Christ of Mokena at the annual meeting of the congregation on last Monday evening. Community-wise he was active in the Civic Association, particularly in the establishment of the 24 acre Mokena Community Park which has now become a park district. The Rev. Mr. Riemann in going into retirement for reasons of impaired health and, together with his gracious wife, will take up residence on the extreme north side of Chicago Heights, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaffner were married in Chicago, March 27, 1919 and have lived in that city most all their life. They moved to Mokena about three months ago and have been living with their daughter Mrs. Bruce because of Mrs. Schaffner's illness.

Congregation Elects Board

The congregation of St. John's United Church of Christ, Mokena, held its annual meeting Monday night. Reports were made by all departments of the church.

Of primary interest were the reports on the building program, now drawing to a conclusion. The financial plan was well worked out and the $97,165.41 expended on the building has been raised without borrowing from a lending institution, it was stated.

The new structure is two stories, 51 by 101 feet in dimension, and houses a nursery, toddlers room, kindergarten, parlor, pastor's study, church office, work room and wash rooms on the ground level. The second floor will house the three grades of the primary department and class rooms for junior and senior high pupils.

In the annual election the following members were elected to the church council for 3-year terms: Erwin Mancke, Willis Schiek and Will Tuttle. Outgoing members were Harold Behen, W.A. Muehler and Lester Christiansen.

Re-elected to serve on the St. John cemetery board were, Henry Shevlin and Edwin Yunker.

Due to the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. William J. Riemann, pulpits committee was elected, made up of Mr. Behen, Hans Mueller, Adolph Steen, Mrs. Roy Kropp and Mrs. Lloyd Leyerle.

Meter Blooms Where None Was Planted

The calm which usually prevails at Mokena village board meetings was not shattered at last week's session but it was somewhat dented when a water meter was found to be in operation where none was listed.

Someone from the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., called Fred Steinhagen, general maintenance man for the village, to complain there was water in the building used by the phone company on First st. Some of the equipment installed there is quite delicate and said to be sensitive to moisture.

Steinhagen was somewhat puzzled when he got the call. He wondered from where the water was coming. He found there was a leak at the water meter but was still puzzled, as there was nothing in the records to show that a meter had been installed there.

And since there is no record of a meter being there it follows there is no record of any payment of a water bill. A representative of the telephone company is to confer with the village board at its next meeting after ascertaining from the lease who is responsible for the water bill.

Proclamation. Saturday afternoon they started to distribute them around town on cars, to the business houses, and to the people. They then made the mistake of putting them in mailboxes door to door. Real hustlers these kids. Officer Gordon Erskine then arrested them on the pretext that they had committed a federal offense in putting them in mailboxes. Real tight town Tinley. Of course, this is done by a lot of local advertisers, but that is beside the point. The point is that the officials were being embarrassed and they wanted to get the kids off the street. If the citizens or the postal inspectors had wanted to make a federal case of it then that was their prerogative.

I feel that the local police have overstepped their jurisdiction since arrest without a warrant is another of our basic freedoms unless it be robbery or some crime against society. The kids were grained for two (2) hours in jail by the chief of police. He confiscated about 150 of their leaflets. More basic freedoms abrogated by our local police. Confiscation, holding under arrest without an attorney, not formally charged, without bond being set are freedoms evidently to be denied to our youth. Very good training. It should make useful citizens of them. To the everlasting credit of the kids they never did tell who authored the proclamation. That's loyalty!

When the duly elected officials refuse to act thru fear or lack of caring then a persons only alternative in this country is the newspaper. I called a Chicago paper because I know it has uncovered some nasty goings on in Illinois. They were very interested in the style of Americanism as displayed in Tinley Park. Evidently their purpose is to keep the public as quiescent as possible because they haven't done anything about it other than send a reporter out. I ask you Mr. and Mrs. Tinley Park how much does it take to make you angry. When three courageous young men are mistreated and people don't act then I'm beginning to believe the town is hopeless.

Tinley has so many problems that aren't being solved that it is rather pathetic. Under the WPA and Roosevelt Tinley could have had a community center and other desirable things, but due to some suborn individuals that were running the town at the time this aid was refused. Other communities that accepted this aid are sitting pretty with not too many problems. We are now reaping the results of this stupidity.

Monday, (Jan. 3), evening a reporter from a Chicago paper came out to our village. The village officials, the Teen Club officers, and a representative from the American Legion sat in. Undoubtedly they scared him away because they probably told him what a terrible fellow I am. They also told him I imagine that Tinley doesn't have any juvenile or adult crime to speak of. At least they don't like to speak of it. It was rather ridiculous and macabre that in the same column of type was a list of all the crime in Tinley in 1959. The Ten Commandments took a rather severe pounding in Tinley last year. The officials missed the point of the entire proclamation. The community center wasn't just for the kids but for everyone. The kids are very concerned about the adult delinquency in Tinley Park as well as their own.

Letters To The Editor

"DEFENDS PROCLAMATION"

Dear Sir:

This letter is written in memoriam to some of our basic freedoms as provided by the Bill of Rights to the constitution of the United States. In Tinley Park these freedoms are about as dead as a doornail. The freedom of speech; it is a freedom hard earned from England back in colonial times, but little used nowadays. It is terribly wrong for a person no matter how old or young to speak his or her mind when they think something is wrong. It just happens that the three lads that helped write and distribute the proclamation that shook up the village officials are but fourteen (14) years old. Guilty public official consciences no doubt. To the lasting shame of the daunts of Tinley it should be pointed out that when the adults refuse to lead and children have to assume adult responsibility then something is radically wrong not only in Tinley but in our nation. Another dead freedom is the freedom of the press. Webster defines a press as any machine making impressions on paper. To stretch a point, anything distributed for the public to read that has news content you could construe to be a press or a newspaper.

There are a couple more basic freedoms the officials of Tinley have tampered with, but this is a long letter. On a Friday evening I dropped into a drugstore for coffee and stopped to shoot the breeze with some young lads standing outside. They were waxing strong on the subject of having nothing to do as previous generations of young people have done ever since I can remember. There are things to do in Tinley provided you have money, provided your father is wealthy enough to give you money or you are old enough to get a job and earn your own money. I invited the kids out to my house the next day. I didn't think they would have courage enough to come, but bright and early Saturday morning there they were. With their help I wrote the

Expressway Construction Accelerated

(CNS) 1960 will be the year of the south side and suburbs in expressway construction, it was disclosed in year-end reports on the state and county highway construction programs for the coming year.

Out of $155,481,000 in highway improvements planned for Cook county, $105,693,000 will be used for interstate expressways, including $25,701,000 out of $40,399,000 to be spent by the state of Illinois within the county, and $60,594,000 out of $95,684,000 to be spent by Cook county. The other $19,398,000 for expressways will come from the City of Chicago, which has not announced its non-expressway projects.

But a more startling financial fact is that this $105,693,000 for interstate expressways includes $99,617,000 to be spent on the South Expressway, to run south near State street to 99th then branch southeast and southwest, serving all areas in the southern part of Cook county. This includes the $19,398,000 to be spent by the city of Chicago for the north-end connection of the South Expressway with the Northwest Expressway, which permits both of them to be designated at FAI 94.

Included in the county's $14,181,000 allocation for the west wing of the South Expressway is $850,000 to be spent for right-of-way between 119th and Vincennes and 175th and Cicero.

An amount of $850,000 is earmarked for right of way south of 119th st. to 175th east of Cicero near Kilpatrick, on the west leg of the south route.

Besides the expressway program, the south side and south suburbs will also benefit extensively from the 1960 programs of both state and county concerning other roads within Cook county.

"I am confident that, through our generous contributions, we will keep the good things happening in 1960."

Concerning the appointment, Ehlert said: "The Red Cross is fortunate in obtaining a person of Mrs. Perrigo's ability to head the March fund campaign. We know it will be a success."

BRAVES NOSE KNIGHTS 57 TO 56

Bremen Alone In 2nd Place After Saturday's Squeaker

Fabulous Jim Mifflin tossed in a 15-foot jump shot with about 3 seconds to go as the Bremen team thwarted a grand-slam weekend for the then thrice-beaten Knights, 57-56. Lincoln-Way missed an opportunity for at least a third place tie.

Pete Loverich put in a rebound shot with 17 seconds to go and vaulted Bremen into the lead. Seven seconds later Skip Kruzich made his eighth basket for the tossed in a basket after Fenn had made another foul shot to bring the Braves within one point of Lincoln-Way and then he grabbed a rebound after a teammate shot whizzed in the basket that put Bremen out front. Kruzich countered for the Knights but Mifflin applied the clincher.

Bremen did not look like the team that would give Carl Sandburg a beating over this weekend. Yet -- who knows in the 1960 SWS round-night and Lincoln-Way bragged the edge. Then came Mifflin's eighth basket and the victory. This was a pattern of the game.

DUANE WARNING (33), Lincoln-Way center controls the rebound. Teammate Ron Yunker (25) and Bremen center, Jim Mifflin, seem to fall away under Warning. Warning looks like he has had a bad dose of medicine. However, this was bad medicine for Bremen--the Knights getting the rebound.

The game was roughly played and closely contested all the way. Neither team came off with a decided edge. It marked the fourth of six Lincoln-Way losses of two points or less, and the third one-point decision that they have been on the short end of.

Mifflin topped the scoring column for the night with 28 points. He scored 12 times from the charity line. Jim's shooting percentage was just under 59% with 8 field attempts in 18 tries.

However, Skip Kruzich, netted eight baskets in only 14 tries for a near 60% shooting mark. This is amazing considering that he is a consistent outside shooter. But--don't let him get near that basket. Well, just don't let him shoot -- that would be better.

The fans saw two of the best performers in the SWS strut their stuff and they were not disappointed. Both of these men scored in the clutch and did it right. Mifflin grabbed the scoring edge from the foul lane.

Kruzich has one more year in the SWS, but will probably set a scoring record for this year at Lincoln-Way. Mifflin is going to make a fine college prospect and should receive some outside recognition for his ability at the termination of this campaign.

The Knights are one of the best shooting quintets in the Conference. The Lincoln-Way team shot a .46 for the evening, while the Brave had only a .33. Bremen got 20 more shots than the Knights, due to the superior height.

Rebounding was the key to victory. In many cases the Braves came off with the basket after two or three attempts, this they were able to do with the three large men up front. That was victory for the Redmen.

Duane Warning was no match for an aroused John Ragsdale, Mifflin, and Loverich. Hampered by fouls, Warning turned in another good night. He was a "good" ball player in Lincoln-Ways bid for the grand-slam.

Two unsung men provided the prelude to the limatic shooting of the usual stars, Mifflin and Kruzich. Dan Fenn put on a great show for the Lincoln-Way fans. Loverich did it for Bremen.

At the start of the fourth quarter, Lincoln-Way behind by four points -- Dan proceeded to pour in two baskets from 15-feet out. These were sandwiched around a free-throw by Bill Seavertson.

Lincoln-Way had moved into a press and caused the Braves no end of trouble with it. Warning tossed in a long bucket and then Fenn was back with two points, these were from the charity lane.

Pete Loverich, the Bremen hero,

Eagles Victory String Unbroken

Well . . . It looks much like the Eagles are the team to predict to win or the SWS title.

But let's wait on that, Friday will tell more when they meet Bremen who has lost but one league tilt.

The Eagles made short work of Rich and beat a stubborn Homewood

-Flossmoor team to remain unbeaten in conference play -- the only such outfit in the SW Suburban.

It appears that Bill Adams is finding the winning combination. In both wins he had four of his five starters in the double figure bracket.

Paul Busch, Adams feels that he has had plenty right along, began to live up to the hopes for him. Paul tossed in 19 points to lead the scorers in the Friday engagement with Rich and was good 11 in the victory over the Vikings.

On Friday: Busch 19; Lindgren 14; Arnold 13; McBride 15. On Saturday: Busch 11; Lindgren 10; Arnold 18; McBride 16. This is the kind of thing that Adams has been hoping for all season.

If these four men continue to score as they have been in the last two games the Eagles will not be headed off and certainly will have the championship in its nest.

Ron Lindgren must be added to the array of the Eagle that is giving the opposition worry. Ron is hitting the hoop at a 53% clip from the field. That for a high school player is terrific. Busch is right behind him at 52%. That's what these boys are shooting on the season.

Lindgren greatly impressed in the Rich game. He, Busch, and Don Arnold did a great job in holding Phil Wagner to one mere basket.

Fact is -- Lindgren was the best rebounder in that contest. He got position under the basket and then got that ball.

At times, it appeared that Sandburg would speed away to a commanding lead, but each time Rich would surge back to within about 10 points. After the first quarter the Rockets were never closer than at the finish, 67-60.

Sandburg moves closer to the title.

It is Bremen on Friday. Enough said.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

BY DEAN DALLAS

Semmler Press Sports Editor

Friday night at Carl Sandburg the biggest basketball game of the young SW Suburban season will be played. Carl Sandburg, 6-0, faces second place Bremen, who owns a 5-1, season's mark. This will be a "Donnybrook."

There will not be a small crowd at this one.

Bremen had a rocky week-end with Lincoln-Way and Evergreen Park. The Mustangs, not figured to give anyone too much trouble in the Conference activity, pushed the Braves to the limit at Midlothian last Friday.

Lincoln-Way, trying to pull the grand-slam, stumbled before the Braves in a thriller, 57-56. Both were struggles for the Redmen. Carl Sandburg did not find the going to rough at Rich. The Rockets made some kind of comeback, after Don Arnold was out with five fouls.

Saturday evening, smarting from the Lincoln-Way defeat, the Vikings game the Eagles got a great scare.

Lincoln-Way has lost to both Bremen and Sandburg by one-point and by almost identical scores.

However in other games it has been a different story.

Previous games will not shed too much light on the subject of this contest. These schools are natural rivals to begin with. And to end with . . .

Sandburg will be out to beat the jinx and Bremen will be hoping to continue the hex. The Eagles have consistently been a second place finisher. In years when they beat great Rich teams they would fall to the Braves in the crucial encounter. This the Eagles would like to forget and a victory at this time would just about do the trick.

If Sandburg wins this contest they will need a near collapse to lose the title that the school has never won.

Bremen is fighting to hold on and tie for the league lead. This is a "must" contest for the Braves. They have to win this game or fall two losses behind the Sandburg outfit.

Sandburg's mainstay has been defense through out the season. If the Eagles can contain Jim Mifflin then it will be their game. When Mifflin has been cold or stopped short of 20 points the Braves have been beaten.

Phil Wagner was held to one basket in the Sandburg game -- the reason: he never got the ball to shoot it. In the final quarter, frustration ruined the Rocket stars' effectiveness. A frustration that was set-up by the great defensive play of Ron Lindgren and Arnold. They just never gave Wagner the chance to shoot.

It will be interesting to see if these lads can stop Mifflin. Jim is, no doubt, one of the finest shooters in the Conference. He is also doing his share on the boards.

In recent games Mifflin has not been getting too much help in the scoring column. Whereas, Lindgren and Paul Busch gave him assists in the week-end victories that made Sandburg unbeaten and atop the Conference. Bill Adams forms a balance with the addition of these two fellows -- or rather; the development of them.

This is the battle of '60. Go there if you can get in and you will get a first hand report on the winner and probably a good view of the new Conference champ.

Tongue in cheek. No . . . I just won't say. You help me out and pick the winner.

L-W Taps Homewood-Flossmoor 67-56

BY BILL SLUIS

Mr. Alger went from rags to riches, didn't he?

Lincoln - Way's Knights rose from three defeats and only one victory to crush second place Homewood-Flossmoor on Friday evening at the home hardwood, 67-56.

The Knights were not considered a possibility over the only conference five to conquer Bremen's Braves.

But the Knights were not to be denied as they sped to an early lead that they never gave up.

The high flying Knights got the best game -- thus far -- from junior center, Duane Warning. Duane scored 13 points and consistently fought off the larger Viking forward wall of Swanson, Diderickson, and Przybyla. All of this trio was taller than Warning.

"Skip" Kruzich continued at a better than a 20-point per game average with a total of 23 points. It looks like Skip will not have difficulty setting a new school scoring record in this year.

Kruzich had his club up and hustling for every ball, basket and rebound over the eventful week-end.

This marked the fourth winning effort of the Knights and their second in conference play against three set-backs. They have already won more games than they did over the entire distance last year.

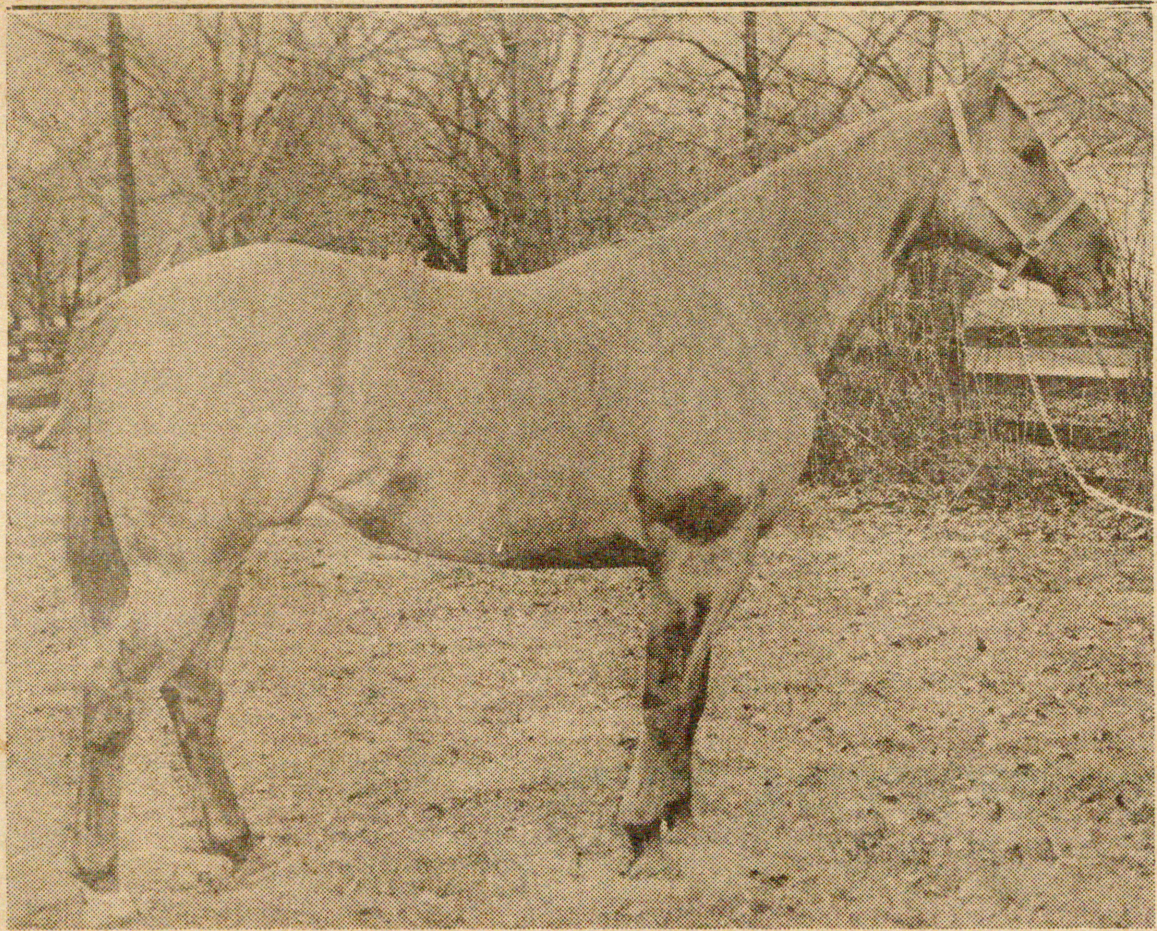

Sensational rebounding marked the Friday game, as the Knights, particularly Warning and Ron Yunker, dragged down 44 rebounds to 22 for Homewood. Homewood had a height advantage, but didn't utilize it, as the Knights got a better position on the taller visitors.

The Knights owned a 13-point lead with 4:18 remaining in the third period, their largest lead of the contest. Then the Knights used somewhat of a stall in much of the fourth quarter, and Flossmoor who had been a contender until Friday, fell out of their high conference rating, as they fell to Sandburg on Saturday, in another one point affair.

Now 4-6 for the season, the Knights will battle Evergreen's Mustangs on the Lincoln-Way court.

The game will be decided on the backboards, and Duane Warning should clear any loose balls away from the Mustangs, who have yet to win a Southwest Suburban game.

TEENAGERS DEPEND ON NEWSPAPERS, TOO!

The teenager constantly strives to be an adult. One of his important links with the adult world is his newspaper. From the newspaper he obtains information available from no other source. Through the formative years of decision and growth toward maturity, the newspaper is his friend, consultant and adviser.

The newspaper provides knowledge and entertainment.

It contains information about politics, romance, sports, food, attire and it tells what other teenagers are doing . . . what they are accomplishing.

The teenager, during the period he is adjusting to an adult world, needs reliable information on which he can reach logical conclusions. And he is swayed more by information he receives in an impersonal way, knowledge he acquires "on his own" and which he may use to make life easier and more enjoyable. With eagerness and great curiosity, he turns each day to the printed word as it comes to him in the printed pages of his newspaper. We naturally are pleased that the teenager turns to us for basic information about the community, the nation, the world and about people who now shoulder responsibilities which some day must be shared by our young readers.

Prepare Two Ice Skating Rinks; One With Lights

BY MARGOT BARTNIK
Sycamore 8-7742

Thanks to the efforts of John Redman, of Palos, the two locations reserved for ice skating rinks have been readied. All that is needed is cooperation from the weatherman! As soon as the mercury drops enough to guarantee freezing, the rinks (which are located at 187th & John and 179th & John) will be flooded by the Fire Dept. A narrow strip of land is being considered for flooding also near the Willowview school. Lights are being installed on 187th to permit skating at night.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL
Special meeting at the home of Emil Van Tichelt, 17861 Anthony, was held on Monday evening, Jan. 11th, for the purpose of filling in an application for Franchise. In a year or so, a permanent site is anticipated which will be complete eventually with dug-outs, bleachers, etc. Sometime next month boys will be notified just when and where to sign up for the League. To be registered, each boy must be accompanied by one or both parents.

Mothers March Needs Helpers, Says Chairman

An urgent call for volunteers for the Mothers' March of the 1960 March of Dimes in Country Club Hills was made today by Mrs. Gus Palumbo, 18717 So. Baker Ave., recently appointed local chairman of the fund-raising drive that climaxes January 28 at 7:00 p.m., in an hour-long, house-to-house collection of money to aid victims of crippling polio.

"We will need many more helping hands this year," Mrs. Palumbo said, "to help meet the greater needs of providing care for past polio sufferers, and to further expanded research aimed at preventing crippling diseases of all kinds."

"Our goal is a Marching Mother knocking on every door in Country Club Hills during the Jan. 28 Mothers' March, so everyone will have a chance to contribute to the 1960 March of Dimes and further the work of The National Foundation and the Cook County Chapter. We are asking all mothers to participate."

Anyone in Country Club Hills who wishes to become a volunteer Marching Mother should telephone Mrs. Gus Palumbo at SY. 8-7261.

UNITED CHRISTIAN

At the recent official board meeting, the possibility of breaking ground for the new church in the spring of 1961 was presented. The program would mean the joining of the Building Fund and the Current Funds in one drive toward the end of May. Work to secure an architect will begin soon, and a Building Committee will be created. The finance committee was encouraged by the financial arrangements that can be worked out with the Board of Church Establishment and enthusiasm is running high.

The Carolers Choir will begin meeting again on Thursday afternoons only, immediately after school in the parsonage.

Area Evangelism Meetings are scheduled for the churches in the Chicago Area, with members of the United Christian Church attending the one at the Hometown Christian Church on Sunday, Jan. 17th at 3:30 p.m. Reports of our fine choir have brought an invitation for our Adult Choir to sing two numbers at the meeting. We hope that several will be present, and H. Van Der Marel, chairman of the Membership Dept., will be urging the entire membership to attend.

During the recent meeting of the Christian Education Assembly which Mr. Pew attended as one of 30 members-at-large, he was elected to serve at the next meeting as vice-chairman of the Youth Section. During the meeting, Mr. Pew also served on special committees to prepare the closing worship service.

On Jan. 17th the church will vote on the formality of accepting the Board of Church Extension loan for $8,000.00 which the church endorses, which is being made directly to the Chicago Disciples Union. The Union is purchasing the land for the church, but as final arrangements are made on the loan, it is necessary for the church to officially accept the terms of the loan. It is interesting to note that the loan is to be interest-free. The Chicago Disciples Union has also purchased the parsonage, and has more than paid the pastor's salary during the first year. Their subsidy to the church now is being reduced rapidly.

ST. JOSEPH MISSION

The young, but rapidly growing Mission is formulating plans for a Women's group which will meet on Thursday evening, January 14th, in the new church. One of the priests from St. Joseph's Church, Homewood, will be present to assist the women in their plans for the future. Officers will be elected, and preliminary plans have been made for a card party to be held in the near future. Included in the agenda will be final plans in regard to the card party. The men of the Mission expect to meet soon with Father Joseph Burke to decide on their future. Meanwhile, Mass continues to be said each Sunday at 9 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. The parking lot has been completed and now holds a record number of cars. A Day of Recollection was held on Wednesday, January 13th, at Our Lady of Sorrows Convent in Midlothian. Several women from our area attended the Dinner and talks during the evening. These retreats are held from time to time for small groups of women by the Benedictine Sisters.

Can File Now For Reduction In Realty Taxes

Individual homeowners in Country Club Hills who feel that their taxes are unduly high in comparison to adjoining towns are reminded that now is the time to protest! The assessor of Cook County will sit at 10 a.m. in his offices in the county building at Clark and Randolph, Chicago, for the purpose of revising the assessments of real property in said county for 1959 on Jan. 14, 15, and 16th. The above time is fixed for the revision of real property assessments of the following Townships or taxing districts in Cook County: Bremen, Bloom Stickney, and Cicero.

PTA NEWS

A panel discussion is planned for the next regular Country Club Hills PTA meeting which will take place on Thursday, January 21st, in the Willowview school at 8 p.m. Teachers from School District #160 will conduct the panel, entitled "Understanding Your Child." Teachers Hal Jones, Donna Jean Nelson, Edith Huckings, and Marilyn Evans will comment on a number of points dealing on the phases of our children's life in school. The teachers will also discuss various ways in which parents can help their children during their early school years. Further details on the subject matter of this panel discussion will be announced in the next issue. The PTA movie, "Alice in Wonderland" which was shown to approximately 300 children last Saturday afternoon, at Willowview school, was termed a great success. It was a full length Disney film; the children enjoyed it, and it realized $80 profit. The sale of popcorn accounted for $20 of this figure. Movies will continue to be shown on the second Saturday of each month.

Safety Devices Needed At Crossing

The Wabash, however, is a single line railroad thru the area, these ICC men pointed out, and therefore gates were unnecessary.

There should be warning signals and flasher lights on the Francis road crossing, however. While motorists traveling eastward have a good view of the track for a considerable distance north and south in the winter there are periods when growing corn is an obstruction.

Motorists traveling west find the crossing a blind one in the spring, summer and early fall because of trees and brush growing east of the right-of-way. Even to the winter the brush and trees to the north of the crossing are thick enough so that a person cannot see a train coming from the north until he is practically on the track.

It is our belief that flashers and a warning bell, activated by an approaching train, is a necessity, at the Francis road crossing and we trust that officials in the area will take steps to see that the matter is brought to the attention of the Illinois commerce commission and the railroad and action is taken.

There is no protection at the crossing now.

Installation of safety devices there, of course, are not a guarantee there will be no other accidents at this crossing. There are always persons who are thoughtless and careless or who believe that signs and warnings are meant for others but not for them.

But we do believe that such safeguards on the Francis road crossing will serve to prevent many possible accidents and save a number of lives.

Lights and warning bells should be installed as soon as possible.

There is considerable talk in the area concerning protection for the Wabash crossing of Francis road. This crossing is located about two and a half miles west of Mokena and was the scene of a tragedy that claimed three lives on Christmas day.

An automobile, west bound on Francis road, stalled on the railroad track and was struck by a southbound passenger train. Two adults and a child were the victims.

As a result of the accident authorities in New Lenox and Mokena are urging that some safeguard be set up at the crossing.

There are many persons from both communities that make use of Francis road since it was blacktopped last year. There are quite a few motorists from Tinley Park and beyond who also use the road and are interested in having it made safer.

There is little, if any, chance of getting gates. The Orland Park village board worked for years to get gates for the 143rd street crossing of the Wabash in that village but without success. The council did succeed in getting improved flasher lights but the Illinois commerce commission refused to grant permission or order the installation of gates.

During that controversy representatives of the ICC met with the Orland Park village council. They explained that gates were allowed only when there were several tracks. The theory behind this is that a person waiting for a train to pass could not see a train approaching on another track and so drive out into its path if there were no gates. Gates would remain down until the other train had passed.

Washington -- D.C. that is -- is full of politicians, civil service employees, press agents and people who gather, transcribe and transmit news.

It is also full of horse players, scotch drinkers and statistics. Especially statistics.

Every governmental department, every bureau, every sub-bureau gathers and compiles figures and information. Such figures and information cover practically every subject under the sun and beyond the sun.

All of this naturally runs into a lot of statistics. What is done with all of these figures and words is probably the subject of some special bureau that has been at the task since the government was founded and will never end.

Not only does it cost the taxpayers vast sums to maintain these compilers and number gatherers but it also costs even larger sums to erect buildings and construct vaults in which to store the blatted things.

The Potomac river and Chesapeake bay would be excellent repositories for a lot of these statistics but the navy or coast guard probably would halt such a move as on the grounds that it would be a menace to navigation.

From time to time one reads of the release of certain documents setting forth incidents or alleged facts concerning World War II and people seem surprised that the government has kept them under wraps this long.

Shucks, that isn't anything. The war department is still keeping secret reports of espionage and counter-espionage as practiced in the War Between the States. Researchers are probably running up against blank walls in pursuit of facts relating to the American Revolution and every other war in which this country has been engaged.

What aid or comfort some of this stuff would give long dead foes is something no one has attempted to explain.

The government may run short of funds from time to time but it will never run short of statistics and reports. And many, many of such sources have never been tapped. Figures are jotted down, reports written, filed away -- and forgotten.

What prompts all this, in case you are wondering, is a release from the census bureau to the effect the population survey for January contains special questions on consumer plans to purchase cars, TV sets, washing machines, refrigerators, and houses.

It is explained that the information is being collected for use by the Federal Reserve Board in studying buying trends of the public.

If you own such things now these economic savants want to know how long you have had them, how you paid or are paying for them, when you plan to replace and how you plan to meet the bills for the replacements. Also how are you getting along with repair and service bills.

As for the houses -- if you have one now if you don't -- when are you going to get the next one.

What are you going to use for money is another question -- and a very good one too.

One thing about it -- if the people who asked for the survey don't use the information it would be discarded. It will go on file in some government hideaway and a hundred, two hundred years from now someone discover how we spent the money we didn't have.

Maybe we ought to file the answer too -- the government taught us.

'Building Self - Confidence and Character in Our Children' was the topic of Stanley Singer, director of the Southwest Cook County Cooperative Association for Special Education, when he addressed the Tinley Park Parent-Teacher association Friday evening, Jan. 9, at Central school. The subject matter proved to be an apt illustration of the January P.T.A. program theme, "Total Loss or Capital Gain?"

It is axiomatic that in any industrial economy, industrial production is the keystone of that economy.

In 1959, industrial production in spite of the steel strike, is expected to be about $164 billion. It is generally expected that in 1970 this figure will be more than $260 billion. This at the rate of 4.4 per cent increase per year. It means considerable growth with greater earnings and dividends, to stockholders of firms experiencing such growth. The expected amount of the increase in the next ten years, will about equal the total production in 1947.

Wars - cold or shooting - always push industrial production ahead at an accelerated pace. In war, the government fosters research and development at a rate ordinary civilian activity could not afford. Ten years ago business, government and educational institutions were spending about $2 1/2 billion on research and development. The figure was more than $10 billion in 1959 and total research outlay in the past ten years is more than $50 billion - the greatest amount ever invested in future development by any nation.

Prior to some ten years ago research and mechanical innovations came largely from individual activity in such research and in unpredictable stages. Today, research is organized with well equipped laboratories under organized controls. The results of this controlled research, is almost predictable results.

With world wide emphasis on science, we must realize that we no longer can rely on retaining complete technical superiority over other lands. Other countries are going ahead in these technical fields at a rapid rate. The rate of growth will not be the same in all industries.

An example of this change in industrial output is had in the textile field. Prior to 1850 all cloth was hand loomed. Industrial competition on a market where comparisons could be made, forced factory production of textile products to improve with greater wearing and design qualities. The advent of the synthetic fibres has effected greater wearing qualities. The textile industry has been steadily shrinking its percentage of total production for fifty years with synthetics gaining at the expense of cotton, silk, wool and rayon.

Another industrial change close to home, is in the production of bread. A great many can recall the time when bread was made at home. The production of bread is now highly mechanized.

To meet the industrial expansion, the first beneficiary will be in machinery industries which produce the tools for this industrial expansion. Such machinery sales will be further stimulated by competitive necessity to cut costs.

The concentration on research will force firms to become most active in their own research activities. Almost every firm is vulnerable to finding itself with obsolete equipment and processes thru the discoveries of another firm in their own industry or creation of a new competing product or process.

It is natural that well managed firms will retain substantial sums to build funds needed to keep abreast of any potential obsolescence of present equipment and processes. It is certain that most labor leaders know these facts of industrial obsolescence well, but seem to fear frankly advising their membership of these facts of industrial life. Automation and insistence on each man producing proportionately regardless of so-called work rules and "feather bedding" is inevitable. Competition between new firms without history of such work-rules and older firms will force it. Many of these old work-rules are a heritage from war days when industries had to hoard labor against new contracts expected, etc. Wars engender inefficiency in some instances such as this.

Well reputed analysts of the electronic field, expect continued growth of a rapid sort, but that the greatest percentage growth will be in the business machine field.

"... the judgment of the Lord to Adam about sweat has not been repealed." — Herbert Hoover.

Rock Islands Net Income Increases Slightly In 59

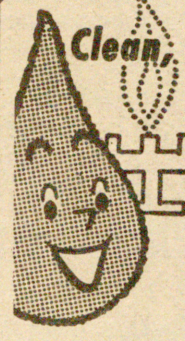

Net income of the Rock Island Lines in 1959 will be "slightly over" 1958's net, Downing B. Jenks, president of the railroad stated today.

The company's net income in 1958 was $8,201,057, with a gross revenue of $207,883,953.

Mr. Jenks estimated the amount of revenues lost to the Rock Island in 1959, because of the steel strike, at $3,500,000.

As to 1960's outlook, he referred to his predictions at "cautious optimism" because of the many factors involved in the overall economic picture.

"If there is no resumption of the steel strike, and if our own industry can escape a critical rail strike, I look for the Rock Island to show an increase of approximately 3% for 1960 in revenue ton-miles, and 1960's gross revenues should show something like a 5 per cent increase over 1959.

Winter Is Good Time To Plan Grounds

BY JAMES FIZZELL
Cook Co. Assistant Farm Adviser

Winter is a good time to plan for an attractive home grounds. There is little that can be done out doors during this season, and there is sufficient time to plan carefully before the planting season comes around.

In planning a home grounds, the two primary aims to keep in mind are utility and attractiveness. Utility is the convenient layout of drives, walks and other parts of the landscape that affect the uses which the home grounds perform. Attractiveness involves the orderly arrangement of the parts into a harmonious unit. Most homeowners consider these aims when planning their landscaping, however, a systematic course of action is not always followed. The first step in developing the home grounds is a plan. A well thought out plan not only assures continuity of design, but can save a considerable sum which would be spent in trial and error planting. It is far easier to move a plant on paper than it is to move one which has been growing in the yard.

Proper selection and placement of plants can eliminate a good deal of work in maintaining a planting once it is established. As an example a shrub border gives the same privacy as a closely pruned hedge but requires far less work. Shrub borders also provide more color, and interest than a trimmed hedge. Careful planning also facilitates the developing of the home plantings, one area at a time over several years rather than necessitating planting of the entire grounds in one season and at the same time keeps the grounds useful and attractive.

Before arriving at a plan, read any literature available on landscaping. Magazines and books as well as newspaper articles and circulars are excellent sources of information.

Make a scale drawing of the home and grounds as they now are. Show exact locations of each object. Divide the grounds into areas of use; service, public and private.

The public area, lying between the street and the house, might consist of a large open lawn, a foundation planting to make the house blend with the surrounding landscape, and a few trees to provide framing and shade for the front of the house.

The lawn area provides an open vista to the house, which is the primary center of interest in the entire plan.

The service area, comprising the garage, drive, incinerator, clothes-drying area, and walk to the kitchen, is used for carrying out the various duties involved in keeping a home. Since the kitchen is always the starting point for these activities, all parts of the service area should be readily accessible from the kitchen door. Usually the most appropriate location for this area is at one side of the house.

The private area, set aside for the personal enjoyment of the family, may be called the outdoor living room. It may include a terrace, the flower and vegetable gardens, children's play area, and a large open lawn.

Trees and shrubs are used to separate the private areas from the other areas and from neighboring properties. They will serve as a screen in addition to providing shade and color for the family's enjoyment.

With the locations of all plantings in mind select proper plants to fit the various locations. This problem is not easily solved. Use of the aforementioned literature should enable selection of plants that will provide interesting texture effects, succession of bloom, winter interest and provide the desired screening and shade.

A list of landscape bulletins, available from the Farm Adviser's Office will be sent upon request.

Letters To The Editor

A WORD FOR TEENS

Sir:

The front page of the Times last week carried a story entitled "Teens Demand Community Center For Tinley Park". It is to these teens that this letter is addressed.

Just where do you get off "demanding" anything? Haven't you yet learned the everyday habit of politeness in asking instead of demanding? Evidently some of all this free time you speak of should be spent reading Emily Post! You say you are tired of "standing on street corners with nothing to do". I once read an article in the "Readers' Digest" that so impressed me that I cut it out and saved it. I would like to quote it to you now.

"Letter to a Teen-Ager"
"Always we hear the spoiled plaintive cry of the teen-ager: 'What can we do; where can we go?' 'I can make some suggestions. Go home!'"

"Paint the woodwork. Mow the lawn. Wash the car. Learn to cook. Scrub some floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job!"

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreational facilities."

"The world does not owe you a living."

"YOU OWE THE WORLD SOMETHING. You owe it your time and energy and your talents."

"Help the minister, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick. Assist the poor. And when you are through - and not too tired - read a book."

If after doing all these things you still feel you need a community center, why not give some thought to procuring it yourselves? One night my husband and I returned the loudspeaking equipment to Joe McCarthy at the Teen Club at the VFW Hall (it had been used at our Cub Pack night). The smoke in that room was so thick you could hardly see across the room and it stung my eyes so badly I quickly stepped outside. Surely, if you teens have enough money to spend on cigarettes you could give them up and put your money toward the community center you "demand". A good many are the same "demanding" teens, why don't they settle for an older, less expensive car and put the rest toward this community center? You do not hesitate to demand a community center from the taxpayers of this community but have you ever looked around and counted just how many of these same taxpayers have a car anywhere near as expensive as most of those parked in the VFW lot on teen night? Wake up, teens! Try joining your church youth league, teach Sunday school, push a wheelchair patient at Oak Forest hospital to the free movie and one more thing - we have no slums in Tinley and very few apartments so most of you must live in homes - a perfect place to meet!

Here's hoping you have the gumption to solve your problem - what to do with all your free time - without landing on the front page again with another "give us a community center immediately before more of us get in trouble and land in jail". Good luck to you!

GOP Town, Ward Committeemen Endorse Derwinski For Reelection

Congressman Edward J. Derwinski (R-4th District) was endorsed for re-election at the caucus held Tuesday, Jan. 5, by the Republican Township and Ward Committeemen of the 4th Congressional District.

State Central Committeemen Earl Kistner of Blue Island, stated: "The outstanding record Derwinski has made in his first year in Congress warrants our complete support of his re-election." Dist- nter is also Calumet Township Re- publican Committeeman and is one of the 12 responsible for the original selection of Derwinski to be the Republican standard-bearer in the 1956 campaign.

Congressman Derwinski served one term as State Representative in the Illinois Legislature and was elected by the Republicans after the death of the late Congressman William E. McVey. In the November 1958 election, he defeated Democrat Leland Rayson, after a field-wide campaign in which he had but two months to earn the Congressional position.

During the present session of Congress, Derwinski served as member of the powerful Banking and Currency Committee, the special subcommittee on Housing and the select committee on Small Business. He is the only freshman member of Congress to serve on the latter two.

In August of this year, Derwinski was a member of the American Congressional Delegation to the Interparliamentary Union Conference held in Warsaw, Poland. He was the only freshman member of Congress to serve on that Delegation being specifically selected at the request of Vice President Nixon because of his knowledge of the Polish language and his familiarity with the conditions in the captive nations behind the Iron Curtain.

Derwinski was also selected as one of Chicago's ten outstanding young men of the year by the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce and Industry.

Typical of the comments made by the Republican Committeemen on the endorsement of Derwinski was the one by Bremen Township Committeeman, Don Moore, "Ed Derwinski has achieved an outstanding record in his first year of Congress. We feel that he has been an outstanding representative of all the people of the 4th Congressional District and, in addition, will be a source of strength to our Republican Party in the 1960 campaign."

In accepting the nomination of the Republican leaders, Derwinski stated, "I am proud to receive the endorsement of the Committeemen of my District. In my first year in office, I have attempted to represent the people of the 4th District in the best interest of all citizens and am gratified that my actions have met with approval to this date. Since I am now returning to Washington for the second session of the 86th Congress, I will devote myself to my duties and responsibilities throughout the session."

"When Congress adjourns early in July," Derwinski concluded. "I will then wage an intensive campaign in support of the Republican record in federal, state and local levels of government."

New Books
In Mokena Library

BY MARCIA MILLER
(PRES, MOKENA BOOK CLUB)
Many new books have been re-ceived by the Mokena Library during the holiday season. Only a few can be described in this column. Others will follow in later weeks.
FOR YOUNG READERS
"The Golden Encyclopedia," A fascinating 16-volume collection of information that will satisfy even the most curious child. Colored pictures on each page, interestingly-written articles. This set may be checked out, a volume at a time, because it is as good for reading as for reference work.
FOR ADULTS
"Act One" by Moss Hart. A new best seller on show business that has had the critics raving. Well written, with a refreshing humility, it takes the reader behind the scenes during the production of a Broadway musical.

"The Ape in Me" by Cornelia Otis Skinner. Another collection of witty writing by this mistress of the hilarious essay.
"For 24 Plain" by Harry Golden. Another delightful book of nostalgia by this best-selling author.
The Mokena Village library is located on Front street, two doors west of the Midwest store. It is open every Wednesday from 3:00 to 4:30 in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 9:00 in the evening. All area residents are welcome to check out books.

Illinois Savings & Loans

A $6 Billion Business

Savings and loan associations of Illinois will enter the New Year as a $6 billion business, according to William H. Spicer, LaGrange, president of the Illinois Savings and Loan League.

Following a record growth of $648 million in the first 9 months of 1959, total assets of the state's 585 associations passed the six-billion dollar mark during October, Spicer said. He estimated that continued growth during the last quarter of 1959 will boost the year-end total of $6,150,000,000.

Growth during the first half of 1959 alone equalled the size of the state's total savings and loan resources at the end of World War II. Assets have increased five times during the past 10 years, Spicer noted.

Increases in savings paralleled the growth in assets, Spicer added. A net gain of $407 million during the first three quarters of 1959 boosted the aggregate balances of over 21/2 million savings accounts in Illinois associations above $5 billion, or five times the total posted 10 years ago. Despite a late - summer dip in savings growth, recent activity indicates an annual gain for 1959 in excess of half a billion dollars for the second consecutive year, he said.

About 85% of the assets of Illinois associations are invested principally in home loans. Two-thirds of the funds advanced for residential financing are provided by Illinois associations, which now make six out of ten home loans recorded in the state, substantially above the 41% national average, Spicer noted.

Money scarcity during the latter half of 1959 did not prevent Illinois associations from making the largest volume of home loans in their 108-year history, Spicer said. Total lending volume for the first 9 months of 1959 amounted to $1,241,084,000 just short of the previous record of $1,800 - 195,000 for an entire year set in 1958. Spicer said. Despite money stringency and the usual seasonal decline, fourth-quarter figures may boost annual lending volume to the $1 1/2 billion mark, he predicted.

Loans for construction of new homes in 1959 also reached a record peak of $420,210,000 for the first 9 months, surpassing all previous 12-month totals. Construction loan totals for the entire year of 1959 should exceed half a billion dollars, about one-third of the total lending volume, Spicer predicted.

Illinois associations now hold more than 10% of the nation's sav-

TINLEY PARK UNIT

Occupational hazards plaguing an unoriented baby-sitter provided amusing situations in a one act play offered at the Tinley Park Parent-Teacher association meeting last Friday evening in the Central School auditorium.

Tho not in the script, the base of a "prop" telephone dangling by an abbreviated cord when the receiver was raised for use, caused contagious convulsive laughter in one performer and nearly brought the production to an untimely end. Those participating in "Lost-One Sitter", under the direction of Mrs. Walter Barton, safety chairman, were: Mrs. Kenneth Crandall,

Mrs. Allan Howie, Mrs. Charles E. Moore Jr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Magee.

However lightly treated by the play, the dangers faced by baby-sitters and youngsters in their care, particularly in instances of inadequate information left by thoughtless parents, are very real. Mrs. Barton said: "Baby-sitters must be prepared to meet many emergencies in the line of duty and to this end the Tinley Park P.T.A. is offering baby-sitters' safety instruction in four weekly one hour evening sessions, starting Feb. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in room 105 at Central school. Sixth graders and up are invited to register through Mrs. Barton (call Kellogg 2-2813 after 4:30 p.m.) before Jan. 26.

Stanley Singer, director of the Southwest Cook County Cooperative Association for Special Education, interpreted the theme of the program "Total Loss or Capital Gain?", through a talk on "Building Self-Confidence and Character in Our Children".

Mrs. John Naughton, vice-president, was responsible for arranging the program. Commemorating "Founders' Day", the February program will honor past presidents of the P.T.A. and will include entertainment in the form of a timely play under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Crandall, historian.

Conducting the business meeting, Mrs. Schmudde, president, announced that the nominating committee will submit its slate of candidates to fill P.T.A. offices for 1960-1961 at the February meeting. Nominations will be accepted from the floor and officers will be elected at the March meeting.

The Rev. T.E. Schroeder offered the invocation. Mrs. Lembke's room won the room count banner for Bert Bul-ton school, Miss Van Dyke's class tied Miss Sweeney's room for the honors at Central School.

Mothers of 4th graders served refreshments during a social period following the meeting.

ORLAND PARK UNIT

"Sex Education That Makes Sense" was discussed by Dr. Franklin R. Fitch at the Orland Park Elementary School P.T.A. meeting Jan. 6 at the school.

Dr. Fitch is executive director of the Illinois Social Hygiene League, third vice president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and associate medical director of the Northwestern University Medical School Clinics, and is much in demand as a speaker before P.T.A. groups.

The P.T.A. meeting, presided over by Mrs. Frank Bischoff, president, was well attended, with Mrs. Linde Lee Moody receiving the room award.

The caucus temporary executive committee for District 135 is calling an organization meeting Jan. 18, reported Mrs. Margaret Loebe, wherein permanent officers will be elected. They would like to have some non-organizational delegates as well as the delegates from established organizations attend, she said. Forms are available to be filled out and have 15 signatures affixed.

Delegates to the elementary school caucus from the P.T.A. are: Harry D. Smith, Mrs. Roger Arp, and Mrs. James Ballantyne, alternate, announced Mrs. Bischoff.

Mrs. Eugene Paschall, program chairman, is introducing Dr. Fitch, also announced an excellent program for next month when Dr. Virgil Kraft will speak on "A Visit in Russia."

Mothers from Mrs. Davidson's third grade were hostesses.
